

QUARANTINE CONFLICT RESOLUTION SERVICE

Stay at home protocols can mean more noise from neighbours who are now all home all day. Or there might be disagreements amongst tenants about how social distancing applies in common spaces. We're here to help! Mediators can facilitate discussions between tenants or a tenant and their landlord.

The Quarantine Conflict Resolution Service is a low-fee mediation option for people finding themselves in conflicts related to quarantine or isolation. The service is voluntary, so everyone must be willing to participate.
